Victim Assistance Coordinator

Louisa Storen, LISW, LMFT

“I provide assistance, special care, support and resources to those who have been hurt by the sexually abusive behavior of a priest, deacon or lay person working for the Diocese. Assistance is offered to victims, their families, schoolmates, parish members and the accused and their treatment is monitored on an on-going basis. I also maintain an on-going database of professional, licensed psychotherapists in the Diocese in order to refer victims for needed counseling.

It is also my responsibility to attend conferences and training sessions pertinent to the needs of victims of sexual abuse and stay abreast of the most current evidence based research. I serve as liaison to community agencies who specialize in treatment of victims including the Dee Norton Lowcountry Children's Center, the Crime Victims Research Project at MUSC, People Against Rape, and Darkness to Light. I also maintain a membership in ATSA.”
